Christopher, Harris and Newell Each Get Touchdowns.

Clemson College, S. C., Oct. 18—With old Sol absenting himself from the scenes, Capt. "Runt" and his warriors did battle with the South Carolinian rivals. The Clemson outfit showed much improvement over the scrap with Alabama the Saturday before, and every inch of ground covered was stubbornly opposed. Straight football was used by both teams, excepting one forward pass attempted by Louisell, which was intercepted by Logan. Fumbling and poor handling of punts had some to do with the Orange and Blue boys' slow work in touchdown making; but outside of this, the plains Tigers fought well and played the gridiron game in that plunging and determined style that brings old Auburn out at the best end of the deal.

For Auburn, Christopher, Harris and Newell were the boys of the day, because of their tallies, besides the ground gained by these three backs. Chris and Red hit the line for repeated gains and Kirk had his little style of playing all his own. Sparkman was sure to do some good work; and Baby limbered up in good shape, which worried the Clemson lads considerably. In the line, Tubby Lockwood was always among those around. Pitts played his old game at center; and Robinson let them know he was holding down an end. Louisell flung his boot into the swine cover for many long punts. Arnold got himself two goal kicks in good style. They might say that the Coach has no punters, and according to their reasoning he may not have; but the way some of these Auburn cow hides send that ball, shows there's something besides an ordinary toe inside.

For Clemson, Webb played a good game. James, at quarter, ran the team in a fighting way, and pulled off some good gains. Logan was a good asset in interference and pulled one in blocking Louisell's forward pass. He attempted a kick in first quarter, which fell short. The team was good on defensive work, but played mostly a kicking offense. If Clemson improves now as she did between the Alabama and Auburn games, Tech had better work double shift. Although Clemson fought hard, only twice did she get in striking distance of Auburn's goal; once in the first quarter, when Logan attempted a drop kick from Auburn's 20-yard line, and once in second quarter when Major tried for drop kick from Auburn's 30-yard line.

HOW IT HAPPENED

Clemson won the toss and took the south goal. Harris kicks off to James, who returned the ball 25 yards. James makes three around right end. Auburn is penalized for offside. Webb loses ball on an attempt through line. Harris tries line for no gain, but on next plays gets two. Newell sweeps right end for seven. Harris gets 3 through right guard, and Arnold goes 5 around left end. Harris bucks over guard for six. Taylor goes two over right guard. Auburn fumbles and Clemson recovers.

James goes around right end 10 yards. Logan hits right tackle for 5, and Webb goes through for three. James around left gets 8 yards. Logan tries line, no gain; and Webb drives for only one. Logan clips off 1 around right. Webb loses 7 in an attempt at left end. Webb punts 45 yards; Newell receives and comes back 30. Christopher goes out of bounds, then hits left guard twice for 10 and 1; and he gets through right guard for 2; Newell sweeps right end for 20 yards, and Arnold takes the other for 6. Christopher hits right guard for 4, then goes through for 15, making touchdown. Arnold kicks goal. Schilleter kicks behind goal line. Christopher brings out to 15 yard line. Christopher makes two over right guard, and tries line again for no gain. Arnold fumbles and Christopher recovers. Louisell punts for 55 yards. James brings back 35 yards, and is tackled by Christopher. Webb and Schilleter try line for no gain. James attempts left and loses 6. Logan attempts drop kick for goal, but ball hits goal post. Auburn's ball on their twenty yard line. Newell goes around right for 6. Quarter up with Auburn's ball on their twenty-six yard line.

Harris substituted for Christopher. Harris goes over left guard for 4, and then over right guard for 2 more. Caughman substituted for Brown. Arnold goes around left end for 4. Harris hits line for 9; Taylor hits left guard for 8. Newell attempts right end for no gain. Harris goes over left guard for 6. Arnold attempts left end, no gain; and Harris gets nothing over left guard. Newell runs right end for 3. Louisell punts for 45 yards. Webb on return punt, kicks 30 yards, and Newell returns 30 yards. Major substituted for Gee, while ball is on Clemson's 25 yard line. Auburn gets 11 through line. Harris hits left guard for 8 and right guard for 3. Littlejohn substituted for Bristol. Harris over left side for 3, and Newell gets through right guard for 7. Harris takes 2 more through same place and puts ball on Clemson's 1 yard line. Harris hits line for touchdown. Arnold fails to kick goal. Sparkman substituted for Harris. Schilleter kicks out of bounds and then kicks 50 yards. Sparkman receives kick and advances ball 10 yards and fumbles. Clemson recovers. Auburn's line strong here. Webb and Logan try right and left ends for no gains, and James gets only 2 through line. Major tries drop kick for goal and ball goes 8 feet wide of post. Ball put in play on Auburn's 20 yard line. Newell tries right end for no gain. Sparkman hits line

Harris kicks for Auburn, kicking 40 yards. Logan receives and comes back 20. Webb circles right end for 5. James hits line for 3. Auburn offside. Schilleter goes over left tackle for 5. Logan circles left for 1. Gaudy tries left tackle for no gain, and Logan gets nothing through right tackle. Ball goes to Auburn on downs. Newell sweeps right for 15. He again gets away for a 70 yard sprint, but play was ruled out because of holding by Auburn. Taylor goes around left for 3. Harris over right guard 2 yards, then left guard for 10. Arnold circles left for 7. Harris hits right guard twice for 3 and 2. Caughman throws Newell for loss. Louisell attempts forward pass, but was intercepted by Logan. James tries left end for no gain. Webb kicks 40 yards. Ball on Auburn's 20 yard line. Newell goes around right end for 8. Harris hits line for no gain.

FOURTH QUARTER

Thigpen goes back in for Stud. Prendergast substitutes for Taylor, and Christopher back in for Harris. Bristol goes in for Littlejohn, McGill for Stribling and Hauvey for Carson.

Newell goes twenty yards around right end for touchdown. Arnold kicks goal. Caughman substitutes Brown. Schilleter kicks off and Newell receives, bringing ball back 35 yards. Arnold tries left end for no gain. Christopher goes over left guard for 5 yard. Christopher goes through center for 2, then around left end for no gain. Clemson receives ball on downs. Major punts 20 yards. Auburn's ball on own 35 yard line. Newell circles right end for 9. Gee goes in place of Major. Arnold fails to gain around left. Christopher hits line for 2. Hairston substitutes Robinson, and Wynn substitutes Kearley. Christopher goes around left end for 10, and Newell gets one around right. Newell gets 10 by circling right. Auburn penalized for offside. Louisell punts across goal line. Ball put in play on 20 yard line. Jeter goes in for Webb. Stribling punts 45 yards. Newell receives and brings back 20. Christopher charges line for 5. Newell tries line for no gain. Christopher gets one through line and then 5 more. Newell circles right end for 5. Christopher tries line for no gain, then hits it again for 3. Game ends with ball on 35 yard line.

THE IDEAL AUBURN STUD- ENT

The ideal Auburn student is loyal to Auburn. He is proud of her history, glories in her present, and is hopeful of her future. When the good name of Auburn is questioned, every loyal Auburn man raises his voice in her defense. He supports college athletics with voice and money; subscribes to the Orange and Blue; joins the Y. M. C. A.; attends church and Sunday school, and works honestly and faithfully for higher standards of honor.

The loyal Auburn man feels that his opportunities are measured only by his responsibilities. He is submissive to those above him in authority. His time is not wasted in idleness. He believes in his college, and in himself; believes, that by persistent effort, by being true to himself and by loyalty to truth, that he can help place the America of the future upon a higher pedestal than any she has ever before occupied.

The highest type of Auburn man believes in MEN and WOMEN. He is courteous and kind, thoughtful of others, friendly and unselfish, broad and sympathetic. Progress is his watchword, and to insure that he works to develop himself in order that he may be a factor in the onward march to a higher civilization and prosperity.

Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION AT MARION

Auburn was well represented by a delegation of twenty-five men at the state Y. M. C. A. convention held at Marion, Ala., from the 15th to 19th inclusive. While in Marion, the men were hospitably entertained by the people of the city, and the Marion Institute. The success of the convention was in a large measure due to their kindness, and the impression they left was a lasting one.

The session opened on Wednesday night, with Dr. Weatherford as the speaker of the evening. His subject was "Life Callings." The Thursday session devoted to the study of vital Y. M. C. A. subjects, were led by Mr. Morgan and Dr. Weatherford. Leadership, Christian work and Bible study were discussed. Dr. Weatherford again led the discussion in the evening session. His subject was "The Conformist and the Non-Conformist."

The discussions for Friday were the continuation of the subjects of the Thursday meetings. A stereopticon lecture, by Mr. Sibley, of Montgomery, on the subject of "Negro Life in the South," was the evening program. Mr. Haunsell and Mr. Morgan were the speakers in the Saturday meetings, with Mr. Winton, Mr. Morgan, Mr. Miller and Mr. Haunsell leading the discussions of the Sunday session. Mr. S. M. Wong addressed the convention on Sunday afternoon on the subject of "Life in China."

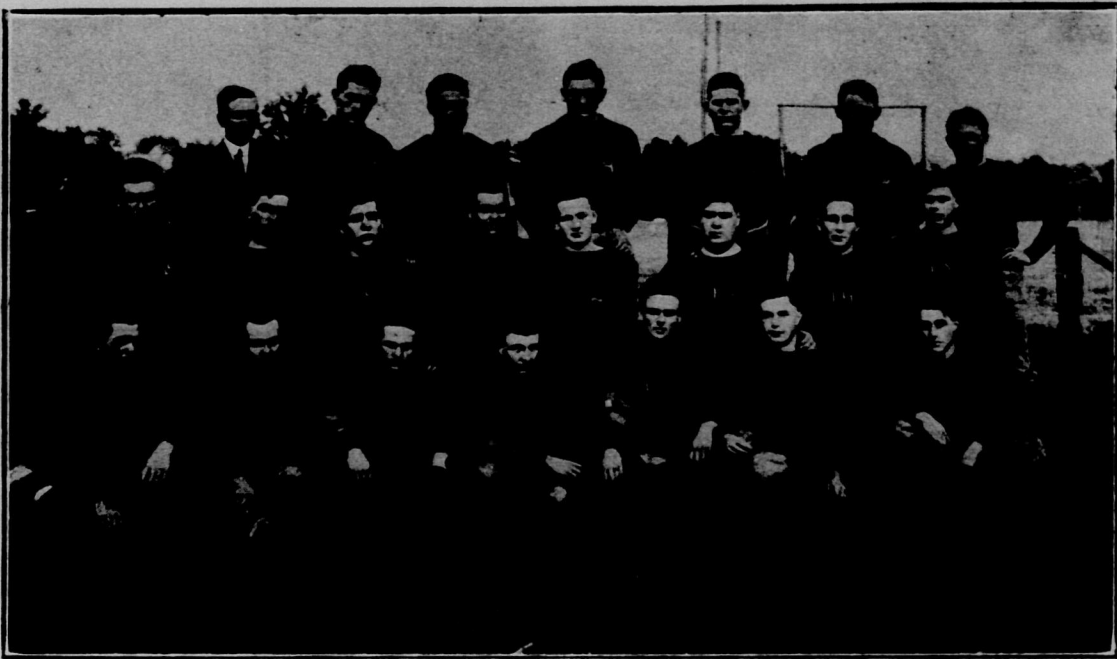

A reception, tendered the delegates by the Y. W. C. A. of Judson College, followed the Saturday evening session. The affair was a most enjoyable one, and the entire delegation is deeply in debt to Miss Brown, and her associates. The delegates from Auburn were: Messrs. Kerlin, Liddel, Glass, McCombs, Luttrell, Wong, Thigpen, Shepherd, Crenshaw, Castleman, Langhorn, Faucett, Smith, Boza, Perry, Pill, Agricola, Howe, Brooks, Morris, Lovelace, Savage, White, Locke and Lester.

PANHELLINIC TENNIS CLUB

The Panhellenic tennis tournament is on again this year and from all dope there will be some warm scrapping for tennis honors and the loving cup trophy. There will be held two tournaments this year—one before, and one after Christmas; and the winners of these two will battle during commencement week for the big scalps. A complete schedule of sets has not been made yet, but playing will be in full sway soon. Last year, the S. A. E. fraternity captured the cup and they are mighty strong contestants again, but the other frats say "nothing doing"—they have to be shown.

The officers of the organization are: Roland Neil, President; Gray Carter, Vice President; W. Williams, Secretary and Treasurer. The two best tennis players from each fraternity are members. The officers have challenged Marion for honors, which will be played off in two matches, one in Auburn before Thanksgiving, and one in Marion on Turkey day.

The men to represent the organization will be the three best men from the three best teams—each man to be picked by his fraternity.

The Warriors, who so far have not been scored on, and who will go get 'em today.

AUBURN, ALA., OCTOBER 25, 1913.

There will be much sorrow in Auburn by the time we go again to press. The hand of fate will have fallen rather heavily on both student and professor alike, and in no other form, than that of mid-term examinations. This year the show begins promptly on the 25th, and ends on the 29th. Quoting from last year's Glomera: "The trunk-hauling industry begins to pick up." The call to return to the old home will have been answered by a few. They had hoped that it would be otherwise, but it can not, since they will have failed to measure up to A. P. I. standards.

Our heart goes out to these fellows, but they are young men, and as such have nothing to lose, but all to gain. As our heart goes out to them, so does our soul, to the professors they leave behind them. Is there any more tragic story, than the one they will have to tell? How, unprepared, unsuspecting, they went to the examination room, men in good mental and physical health, and came out borne on litters. "Shot to pieces by the pen of a distinction-aspiring 'rat.'" (This is the only amusement our quiet hamlet affords them.) They will be lying on beds of perfect agony and torture.

Especially will this be true of the younger members of the faculty who have not yet learned the ways of the student body. Unlike the older professors, they will not have brought guns concealed up their sleeves, but will have come absolutely unarmed. (?)

"We are not prophets, nor the sons of prophets," and we are only making a prediction, but if the faculty doesn't get the worst of this "shooting" scrape, we will be ready to admit that we were fooled, and fooled sadly. Our plea to the student body is, that they stay by us, so that we will have nothing to "take back."

Go to each examination prepared. Not half-way, but fully so. Don't cram, it leads to brainlessness. Study methodically and let's resolve to have all our marks in single file, as they go home on the reports.

We did not get to have a bon-fire last Saturday on account of the dryness (?) of the atmosphere. However, when we beat Miss. A. & M. this afternoon, we want to get things together for such a bon-fire as Auburn has never seen. Fellows, we have got "some team," we have also some schedule, and we must have some spirit.

Spirit means "pep," ability to yell, enthusiasm, and, above all, sportsmanship of the highest order. Let's show the team we mean business, let's meet them when they come back, and let's pull altogether all the time.

HONOR ROLL.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

Those who were present at the meeting of the Agricultural Club last Friday night enjoyed one of the best programs rendered in that hall this year.

Mr. G. W. Holly made a very interesting talk on "Pruning." He brought out many good points that are to be derived from pruning. He also showed how and why the training received in the Horticultural department is of inestimable value to any one contemplating owning an orchard, either for home or commercial use.

Mr. Lewis on "The Planting of Forage Crops to Improve the Soil," made an excellent talk and brought out many good points.

We also had a very able talk by Mr. L. W. Ramsey on "The Importance of the Agricultural Club to the Agricultural Student."

The observer sez, sez-ze, about as follows:A GOOK is a college man who doesn't know an end run from a knocks if his team doesn't play up to his ideals. For the love of gives us a little song in this strain:"Now the wild singing waters,

so long held apart,
Are released from their bondage
and rush heart to heart;And the lordly Pacific, enraptur-

To embrace his fair sweetheart,
the blue Caribbean."However, the matter of fact,
unsentimental, unromantic engineers of the war department,
arise to point out that the waters of the Atlantic and the Pacific do not mix in the canal. Even on the face of their statements, however, some fair poet speaks of the "marriage of the oceans" or the
"wedding of the waters."The "fullbacks" and "half-

DRAMATIC CLUB

Last Thursday night, at the home of Prof. Wannamaker, was held the initial meeting of the student's dramatic club. A very good number came out and from the interest evinced by those present, the club is expected to do great work this year. In fact, so many have signified their intention of joining, that it is possible that a try-out will have to be held, in order to see who shall become regular members.

Nothing could be done at the first meeting except discuss plans for the year. Committees were appointed to draw up a constitution and nominate officers. The next meeting will be held October 21, at Prof. Wannamaker's house.

MINUTES OF WEBSTERIAN SOCIETY

October 18, 1913.

The Society was called to order by the President, G. W. Holley. After devotional exercises the regular program for the evening was taken up. Mr. Hollis made an interesting and helpful talk on, "The Development of an Argument." He showed that the art of debate consisted of two divisions, conviction and persuasion, and pointed out how the one was absolutely dependant upon the other.

Question for debate was: "Resolved, that Brutus was moved by patriotic emotions to kill Caesar." E. Manning, A. C. Dugger and L. W. Fogarty defended the affirmative. They advanced points to show that Caesar was ambitious of becoming king and had usurped the consulship against the will of the people. They pointed out that Brutus killed him "Not that he loved Caesar less, but that he loved Rome more." L. S. Owens, A. Carnes and W. Wilkinson, of the negative, in addition to a good refutation of the opposition's points, pointed out the great work that Caesar had done in lightening the burdens of the common people. They also indulged in tirades against the character of Brutus.

After a lengthy discussion, the judges rendered their decision in favor of the negative.

While the judges were preparing their decision several of the members took an active part in irregular debate and the subject was argued from every conceivable angle.

Next in order was taken up the business of the Society. Time of meeting was changed from 7:30 o'clock to 7. The report of the treasurer showed the Society to be in good financial standing. The critic then made an interesting report. He showed where several grammatical errors had been made in the heat of the debate. He also pointed out certain parliamentary reforms, which were considered conducive to the good of the organization.

Owing to the near proximity of exams it was decided to dispense with the next meeting. A motion was then made and carried to meet two weeks hence.

G. W. Holley, President.

W. L. White, Secretary and Treasurer.

FITTING THE CASE

With a face that vainly endeavored to appear mournful, and eyes that vainly strove to produce a respectable flow of tears, Patrick Murphy O'Dolan strolled into a dry goods store.

"I want ye to tell me," he murmured, "phwat the custom is for th' wearin' iv mournin'."

"Well," mused the assistant, "of course it varies. If it's a less near relative, a band of black on the sleeve or hat; or, if it's a friend, just a black tie."

For some moments Patrick Murphy O'Dolan considered.

"Well," he whispered at length, "give me a shoe lace. It's my wife's mither."—Paint, Oil and Drug Review.
